SELECT COMMITTEE ON ETHICS

September 24, 2019

Jason Stverak
Office of Senator Kevin Cramer
United States Senate
Washington, DC 20510

JEANNE SHAHEEN, NEW HAMPSHIRE

Dear Mr. Stverak:

This responds to your recent correspondence concerning an invitation you received to travel to the Microsoft Congressional Staff Visit 2019, in Redmond, Washington, on October 2–4, 2019, sponsored by Microsoft Corporation (Microsoft). Microsoft certified to the Select Committee on Ethics (the Committee) that it will pay the necessary expenses related to the travel and that it is neither a lobbyist, nor lobbying firm, nor an agent of a foreign principal, and it is not otherwise acting as a representative or agent of a foreign government. However, Microsoft has certified that it is a private entity that retains or employs a registered lobbyist and that no registered lobbyist or agent of a foreign principal will accompany you on any segment of your trip.²

Based on information and materials available to the Committee, and assuming the actual travel and travel-related expenses conform to the information and materials you provided, it appears that the proposed payment or reimbursement of necessary expenses for this one-day (exclusive of travel time and two overnight stays) trip may be accepted under relevant Senate Rules and the Committee's Regulations and Guidelines for Privately-Sponsored Travel, so long as at the time of the payment or reimbursement, Microsoft is neither a registered lobbyist nor lobbying firm under the Lobbying Disclosure Act of 1995, nor an agent of a foreign principal under the Foreign Agents Registration Act (and is not otherwise acting as a representative or agent of a foreign government), and provided the travel and all required documents are disclosed to the Secretary of the Senate in accordance with the provisions of Senate Rules 34 and 35.

Under Senate Rule 35, Senate staff must receive advance authorization signed by the Member or officer under whose direct supervision the individual works in order to accept payment or reimbursement for necessary expenses related to fact-finding travel. Further, such authorization and expenses must be disclosed to the Secretary of the Senate by filing the completed Employee Pre-Travel Authorization and the Employee Post-Travel Disclosure of Travel Expenses (Form RE-1 and Form RE-2), along with a copy of the Private Sponsor Travel Certification Form, and all relevant attachments (e.g., the private sponsor's invitation and itinerary) within 30 days of the conclusion of Privately-Sponsored Travel.

¹ The term "necessary expenses" has a specific definition. See Select Committee on Ethics' Regulations and Guidelines for Privately-Sponsored Travel – Glossary of Terms at 8.

² The term "any segment of your trip" has a specific definition. See id. at 3.

Finally, Senate Rule 34 requires a reporting individual,³ on his or her Financial Disclosure Report, to make an annual disclosure of the receipt of payments or reimbursements under Senate Rule 35 from a private sponsor for officially-related travel expenses where, in the aggregate, travel expenses exceed $390 from that sponsor during a calendar year. However, if a Member, officer, or employee properly reports the receipt of necessary expenses for such travel to the Secretary of the Senate within 30 days of the travel, as discussed above, the travel expenses need not be disclosed a second time on their Financial Disclosure Report.

I hope you find this information helpful. If you have any additional questions, please do not hesitate to contact the Committee.

Sincerely,

Deborah Sue Mayer

Chief Counsel and Staff Director

Deborah Sur Maryon

Enclosure: Travel Checklist

³ A reporting individual is someone whose salary equals or exceeds 120% of the basic rate of pay for GS-15 ($127,914 for CY 2019) or is a political fund designee and is required to file Financial Disclosure Reports.

John Sampson

Managing Director, Azure Government Affairs

John Sampson joined Microsoft Corporation's U.S. Government Affairs division in April 1998 and since then has worked in the company's Washington, D.C. Federal government affairs office. From 1998 until late 2017 he served as the company's liaison to Republicans in the U.S. House of Representatives.

In October 2017, John was asked to create and lead the Microsoft Azure Government Affairs Team, which advocates for the company's industry leading cloud platform with federal government leaders and decision makers.

With over 30 years of experience on Capitol Hill and in the advocacy community, John maintains a broad network of relationships, and is widely recognized as an articulate industry ambassador, familiar with technology and Internet trends, and skilled at communicating the complexities, meaning and policy implications of technological change. In his 20 years at Microsoft, John has developed a proven record of establishing partnerships in support of strategic, long-term, big-bet initiatives, and has worked directly with the company's senior leadership, including CEOs Bill Gates, Steve Ballmer and Satya Nadella, to nurture strategic relationships with the nation's elected leaders in Washington, DC.

In March 1998, John completed a ten-year stretch working for the Republican leadership in the House of Representatives, a period during which he developed a rare combination of legislative, political, management, publishing and technology experience. His Hill career culminated as a senior aide to House Majority Leader Dick Armey of Texas.

John's Capitol Hill career began in 1989, serving three years as an analyst writing for the Legislative Digest, the House Republican leadership's weekly journal of bill summaries distributed to House Republicans, their staff and a mailing list of Washington decision makers. In 1992, John took the helm of the publication as its editor, and over the next two years overhauled its design, distribution and coverage. Always eager to embrace technology to enhance efficiency, John deployed several new tools, including the first computer-based broadcast fax network on Capitol Hill.

After Republicans swept the historic November 1994 elections, John was appointed to the House GOP transition team to aid in the development of the House's new administrative structure. He soon thereafter oversaw the selection of IT systems for incoming Speaker of the House Newt Gingrich and Majority Leader Armey. The purchase included a sophisticated project management system, a key tool used by the leadership to help manage the frenetic first 100 days of the Contract with America.

In April 1995, John returned to the policy realm in the Majority Leader's Office where, for the following three years he represented and advised Mr. Armey on a variety of issues, working with a cross-section of members and staff in support of the Leader's responsibilities as the manager of the House's legislative calendar and floor schedule. During election years, John campaigned with Mr. Armey for GOP incumbents and challengers around the country.

A 30-year resident of the Washington, D.C. metro area, John was asked in 2002 to serve as President of the Board of Court Appointed Special Advocates of D.C. for Children, a non-profit social welfare organization that recruits and trains volunteers to represent the interests of abused and neglected foster children in the D.C. Family Court. He continues to serve CASA as a standing board member.

John was born and raised in San Francisco, California and received his Bachelor of Arts degree in Political Science from the University of California at San Diego in 1988. He lives in Arlington, Virginia with his wife, Kathryn Sheller, a graphic designer and former Art Director at The Washington Post, their 14-year-old son, Paul, and 10 year-old daughter, Gwendolyn.

Michaela Berendt

Business Operations Associate, Microsoft

Michaela Berendt joined Microsoft in December 2018 after nearly two years of work on Senator Maria Cantwell's (D-WA) successful 2018 reelection bid against former Washington State Republican Party Chair Susan Hutchison. She functioned as the campaign's Deputy Finance Director, helping lead a team that raised over $11 million working on instate and national events and donor outreach for the Senator.

Prior to joining the finance team in Seattle, Michaela executed Senator Cantwell's call time in Washington, DC. Michaela graduated in the spring of 2017 from Villanova University magna cum laude with a B.A. in Political Science and English Literature. During her four years at Villanova, she competed in the Big East Conference for the Wildcat's women's volleyball program.
